

BURN AND RECONSTRUCTIVE CENTERS OF AMERICA

POSITION AVAILABLE

BURN SURGEON

Burn & Reconstructive Centers of America seeks a dedicated surgeon to join the staff of the nation's largest network of burn centers. BRCA operates nine facilities in Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Texas, including our flagship facility: the JMS Burn Center at Doctors Hospital in Augusta, GA, the largest burn center in the U.S. Collectively, BRCA facilities have 190 beds and account for more than 5,400 patient admissions and 42,000 outpatient visits annually.

Our BRCA Surgeons treat patients of all ages for a wide range of injuries, including thermal, chemical and electrical burns, skin and soft tissue disorders, extremity injuries and complex wounds. Duties will include inpatient and outpatient care, surgical intervention, assistance with research efforts and development/education activities of the burn centers. In addition to our burn mission, our surgeons also have opportunities to experience hand surgery, microvascular reconstruction, plastic surgery, advanced wound care and other treatment modalities.

Education/Qualifications:

- Board Certified/Board Eligible in General Surgery, Plastic Surgery, or Trauma/Critical Care

Preferred:

- Previous experience in one or more of the following: Burn care, wound care, reconstructive surgery, pediatric care, Hyperbaric Oxygen treatment, care of traumatic hand and extremity injuries
- Critical care certification or experience
- Willingness to participate in clinical research

NOTE: Chosen candidates must either have a current medical license or be eligible for application in the state where they will practice. Foreign med school graduates must also have certification by ECFMG.

BRCA is a leader in compensation, benefits and professional coverage packages. Interested applicants should forward C.V.'s and references to BRCA Chief Medical Officer Shawn Fagan, MD FACS at shawn.fagan@burncenters.com. For more information, see our website. burncenters.com
